I am sorry to write this but Bill has passed away. In September they found a brain tumor and removed it. He then had chemo but after 2 treatments the cancer was back and growing fast. He spent the last 5 months in the hospital and VA care center in phoenix. They took wonderful care of him and he did not know where he was or what was going on. I went every day to be with him and most of the time he knew me, so after 39 years of marriage I said goodbye Sat 24 of January at 6:45 p.m. He is being cremated this week and will be buried in the VA cemetery in Phoenix. There is no funeral as he did not want one, but I wanted you to know what happened to him.
